he turned it down.

The most rabid critics of Col. Roose velt were stirred by the greeting Denver accorded him to-day. From morning till night he was on his feet. The Rocky Mountains in the distance all but rever berated with the whoops of joy ejaculated by the people of Colorado, who had traveled miles to be here on this gala day. The militia escorted him through the streets. The governor and State officials carried him everywhere.

Garfield and Pinchot, Too.

Garfield and Pinchot came along and after Oct. 1 at the Law School Building, 818-830 took in the whole show with very evident smiles on their faces. All along the line the noise would have made a boiler works seem like the hush of death. Declarations from Col. Roosevelt before

He will go forward and not backward, just as he has done to-day. Those who have insisted that the colonel would get together with President Taft and heal the breach in the Republican ranks are undoubtedly changing their minds, if they ollow the trend of Mr. Roosevelt.

He has more than plenty of opportunity to come out and say a good word for the administration if he cared to. He was shown to-day the letter that the President wrote for the Republican campaign committee requesting that the regulars and insurgents and the progressives all get together and arouse the Republicans to victory this fall. And after he had read it he merely smiled and said nothing. Roosevelt is going to pull by him-

At 11 o'clock this morning the colonel blew into Denver. He was met by Gov. Shafroth and Mayor Speer and a reception committee. Ben Daniels, a Rough Rider, who was pretty well known around New York in June, when T. R. returned from Europe, was right on the job, and stuck around all day. A mob of thousands of persons had gathered outside the station gate, under the triumphal arch with the word: "Welcome" towered above and the sign is always there for conventions-Elks, Republicans, and Democrats.

Wants Judge Lindsey. At the entrance Col. Roosevelt discovered that Judge Ben Lindsey, the magazine writer, who has hammered the corporations and other things, was not to be allowed to sit on the platform. Several citizens had objected. As soon as the colonel heard of this he insisted that Judge Lindsey be seated on the stage. He declared that he would not speak unless the judge was present. The judge was summoned. Scarcely anyone in the auditorium knew what caused the delay. Roosevelt, as he stepped into the hall, was nearly deafened by the applause that swept it. Every one arose. #### THE SCHOOLMARM.

The teacher in the country school, expounding lesson, sum and rule, and teaching children how to rise to heights where lasting honor lies, deserves a fat and handsome wage, for she's a triumph of this age. No better work than hers is done beneath the good old shining sun; she builds the future of the state; she guides the youths who will be great; she gives the childish spirit wings, and points the way to noble things. And we, who do all things so well, and of our "institooshuns" yell, reward the teacher with a roll that brings a shudder to her soul. We have our coin done up in crates, and gladly hand it to the skates who fuss around in politics and fool us with their time-worn tricks. In Congress one cheap, common jay will loaf a week, and draw more pay than some tired teacher, toiling near, will ever seen in half a year. If I was running this old land, I'd have a lot of statesmen canned; and Congressmen, and folks like those, would have to work for board and clothes; I'd put the lid on scores of snaps, and pour into the teachers' laps the wealth that now away is sinned, for words and WALT MASON. wigglejaws and wind.

It is a well-known fact that it is harder to digest cold food than warm food, and as most of the food eaten in hot weather is iced, a great amount of digestive suffering results. It is well to be careful about what you eat in hot weather, and not to over-eat, but it is more important still if you are suffering from indigestion to have it cured promptly. It is hard enough at best to bear up under terrible heat, but when the stomach is loaded with food it cannot digest and the bowels are clogged with digest to headaches, colds, fever, constipation, and a dozen and one ailments that make life a burden. Take a few doses of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and you will find immediate relief and in a short time a permanent cure. It will cleanse the stomach and bowels and give your system a new start.
